

Before completing your application, please refer to the following for guidance.

As part of Keep Scotland Beautiful's commitment to the environment, we are endeavouring to reduce the amount of paper that we use. It is asked of all applicants, where possible, that they complete their applications electronically and e-mail them back to the charity. If there are any special circumstances that prevent this, please contact us and we will forward hard copies of all information.

IMPORTANT:

Please be sure to fill in which post you are applying for and the date of your application.

A. Introduction

The decision on who to invite for interview is based on the information provided in completed applications. Therefore, you should use the application form to show how you meet the requirements of the job. Please note that we will only accept curriculum vitae from applicants whose disability makes it difficult for them to complete an application form. All applicants, however, need to show how they meet the person specification.

B. Job description and person specification

You should have received a job description and a person specification with the application pack. The job description lists the job title, location, purpose and main tasks of the job. The person specification lists the experience, skills, abilities and knowledge and required competencies that the successful applicant will need to perform the job effectively. The person specification is divided into what the successful applicant must have (the essential criteria) and what it would be helpful for them to have (the desirable criteria).

C. Application form for employment

Section 1 Personal Information

Please complete personal detail in full

Section 2 Education

Please detail secondary schools or colleges attended, subject/s studied and grades of any qualifications gained

Section 3 Further Education

Please give detail of college, university attended, subject/s studied and qualifications gained. If achieved through distance learning, please give detail of examining body. In this section you can detail any memberships of professional bodies

Section 4 Courses Attended

Please give detail of courses attended that relate to personal development or on the job training. This may include short courses and evening classes where you have gained accreditation, certificate or other.

Section 5 Employment History

Please start with your current or most recent employer, and work backwards in chronological order. Do include any periods of military service, registered unemployment and temporary/voluntary employment.

Section 6 Meeting the Person Specification

This section of the application form is particularly important. When completing your application you must show how you meet the person specification rather than the job description, otherwise your application will be incomplete and we will not be able to process it. This is most easily done by taking each point on the person specification in turn.

- Remember, we can only decide to invite you for interview based on the information provided in your application.
- For disabled candidates who may have difficulty completing an application form only - if you are going to send us your curriculum vitae you still need to provide information about how you meet the person specification in the way outlined above.
- If you would like help completing your application, please contact us before the closing date and we will be glad to help you.
- You can continue on additional sheets of paper if necessary, but try to be precise, factual and succinct. The important element here is to try to demonstrate your suitability in a brief manner. Remember, we will have lots of information to consider and will concentrate on the key facts. You will get a chance to express yourself further at interview if selected

Section 7 Other Information

This section is also important. We will want to know about any specific skills, possible career achievements and attributes that enhance your employability. You may wish to tell us what kind of person you think you are and what you would bring to this position.

Section 8 Other Interests

This helps us know a bit more about you, so detail your hobbies, interests or pastimes.

Section 9 General Questions

It is important for us to know what your notice period is so please check this out with your existing employer. Some of our job roles have an essential requirement to hold a valid UK Driving Licence. Where this is the case we ask you to confirm this.

Section 10 Criminal Convictions

The Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 does not require applicants to give details of any convictions that are spent, unless the post is exempt from the Act. However, you must declare all spent / unspent convictions if the post you are applying for is subject to a Protection of Vulnerable Groups (PVG) Disclosure check. Failure to disclose such convictions could result in disciplinary action or dismissal.

The person specification for each role details whether or not a PVG Disclosure check will be applicable

Section 11 Guaranteed Interview Scheme

Our Equality & Diversity policy includes our commitment to making reasonable adjustments to meet the needs of applicants and employees with disabilities. This means that any job applicant who has a disability and meets the essential job requirements will be guaranteed an interview (Guaranteed Interview Scheme).

Section 12 Referees

Please give details of two people (not relatives) that we could approach for references, one of which should be your current or most recent employer. Please ensure that you have obtained their permission prior to submission. By completing this section, we will assume you have given these referees permission to disclose information about you to us.

Section 13 Signing your Application

Before submission, make sure that you have signed and dated your application. If you forward by e-mail, this will be deemed confirmation of your application and the information contained therein. Disclosing false information could lead to your dismissal from Keep Scotland Beautiful.

D. Equal Opportunities Monitoring Information

Keep Scotland Beautiful recruits and selects employees by using job-related criteria (the person specification). To ensure that this process is fair, we need to find out how you found out about this vacancy. In addition, we would like information about your gender, age, ethnic origin and disability. We then compare, anonymously, who applies, who we shortlist, and who we appoint, with information about the labour market.

Please complete the enclosed equal opportunities monitoring information form and return it with your application. Please note that this information is separated from the application form before short listing and interviewing.

E. Disability Equality

Keep Scotland Beautiful recognises the exclusion and disadvantages that people with disabilities can experience because of social, economic and material barriers, created by the world in which they live. Keep Scotland Beautiful also recognises that people with disabilities may be enabled by learning additional skills.

Keep Scotland Beautiful will take steps to ensure that it meets its obligations under the Equality Act 2010 and, where possible, exceeds them. This includes making reasonable adjustments to meet the needs of trustees, committee members, job applicants, employees, customers and volunteers, who may have a disability.

Completed Applications

All completed applications and equal opportunity forms should be submitted to jobs@keepscotlandbeautiful.org

Job Application Privacy Notice

Data controller:

Keep Scotland Beautiful, Glendevon House, The Castle Business Park, Stirling, FK9 4TZ

Data protection officer:

Barry Fisher, Chief Executive

As part of any recruitment process, the organisation collects and processes personal data relating to job applicants. The organisation is committed to being transparent about how it collects and uses that data and to meeting its data protection obligations.

What information does the organisation collect?

The organisation collects a range of information about you. This includes:

- your name, address and contact details, including email address and telephone number;
- details of your qualifications, skills, experience and employment history;
- information about your current level of remuneration, including benefit entitlements;
- whether or not you have a disability for which the organisation needs to make reasonable adjustments during the recruitment process;
- information about your entitlement to work in the UK; and
- equal opportunities monitoring information, including information about your ethnic origin, sexual orientation, health and religion or belief.

The organisation may collect this information in a variety of ways. For example, data might be contained in application forms, CVs or resumes, obtained from your passport or other identity documents, or collected through interviews or other forms of assessment.

The organisation may also collect personal data about you from third parties, such as references supplied by former employers, information from employment background check providers and information from criminal records checks. The organisation will seek information from third parties only once a job offer to you has been made and will inform you that it is doing so.

Data will be stored securely in a range of different places, including on your application record, in personnel management systems and on other IT systems (including email).

Why does the organisation process personal data?

The organisation needs to process data to take steps at your request prior to entering into a contract with you. It may also need to process your data to enter into a contract with you.

In some cases, the organisation needs to process data to ensure that it is complying with its legal obligations. For example, it is required to check a successful applicant's eligibility to work in the UK before employment starts.

The organisation has a legitimate interest in processing personal data during the recruitment process and for keeping records of the process. Processing data from job applicants allows the organisation to manage the recruitment process, assess and confirm a candidate's suitability for employment and decide to whom to offer a job. The organisation may also need to process data from job applicants to respond to and defend against legal claims.

The organisation may process information about whether or not applicants are disabled to make reasonable adjustments for candidates who have a disability. This is to carry out its obligations and exercise specific rights in relation to employment.

Where the organisation processes other special categories of data, such as information about ethnic origin, sexual orientation, health or religion or belief, this is for equal opportunities monitoring purposes.

For some roles, the organisation is obliged to seek information about criminal convictions and offences. Where the organisation seeks this information, it does so because it is necessary for it to carry out its obligations and exercise specific rights in relation to employment.

If your application is unsuccessful, the organisation may keep your personal data on file for a period of six months in case there are future employment opportunities for which you may be suited. The organisation will ask for your consent before it keeps your data for this purpose and you are free to withdraw your consent at any time.

Who has access to data?

Your information may be shared internally for the purposes of the recruitment exercise. This includes members of the corporate services team, interviewers involved in the recruitment process, managers in the business area with a vacancy and IT staff if access to the data is necessary for the performance of their roles.

The organisation will not share your data with third parties, unless your application for employment is successful and it makes you an offer of employment. The organisation will then share your data with former employers to obtain references for you, employment background check providers to obtain necessary background checks and the Disclosure Scotland Service to obtain necessary criminal records checks.

The organisation will not transfer your data outside the European Economic Area.

How does the organisation protect data?

The organisation takes the security of your data seriously. It has internal policies and controls in place to ensure that your data is not lost, accidentally destroyed, misused or disclosed, and is not accessed except by our employees in the proper performance of their duties.

For how long does the organisation keep data?

If your application for employment is unsuccessful, the organisation will hold your data on file for six months after the end of the relevant recruitment process. At the end of that period, your data is deleted or destroyed.

If your application for employment is successful, personal data gathered during the recruitment process will be transferred to your personnel file and retained during your employment. The periods for which your data will be held will be provided to you in a new privacy notice.

Your rights

As a data subject, you have a number of rights. You can:

- access and obtain a copy of your data on request;
- require the organisation to change incorrect or incomplete data;
- require the organisation to delete or stop processing your data, for example where the data is no longer necessary for the purposes of processing; and
- object to the processing of your data where the organisation is relying on its legitimate interests as the legal ground for processing.

If you would like to exercise any of these rights, please email us on data@keepscotlandbeautiful.org or telephone us on 01786 471333.

If you believe that the organisation has not complied with your data protection rights, you can contact the Information Commissioner's Office.

What if you do not provide personal data?

You are under no statutory or contractual obligation to provide data to the organisation during the recruitment process. However, if you do not provide the information, the organisation may not be able to process your application properly or at all.

Automated decision-making

Recruitment processes are not based on automated decision-making.

Job Title:	Our Heritage, Our Future Project Officer
Job Grading:	Level 2 - Officer
Location:	Stirling
Reporting to:	Our Heritage, Our Future Coordinator

Job Purpose

Reporting to the Project Coordinator, the Our Heritage, Our Future Project Officer will develop and deliver a programme of place-based cultural heritage activity as part of the Our Heritage, Our Future: Community, Climate and Heritage Action project.

This project will provide a multi-faceted, community-based approach within communities and across heritage sites throughout Scotland, with the core aims of:

- taking action to conserve and enhance historic monuments,
- engaging with communities to bring heritage to life,
- raising awareness of the importance of conserving heritage, and the benefits heritage can provide for individuals,
- using heritage as a means to enhance a shared sense of place and purpose, and
- creating a lasting legacy of ownership and ongoing heritage conservation.

Key Responsibilities

1. Work with communities to identify, research and learn about their heritage.
2. Establish links and foster relationships with new volunteers, and work with volunteers to undertake a range of heritage activities.
3. Liaise with key referral agencies, local authority partners and external organisations to organise and deliver meaningful activities in line with qualification and certification requirements.
4. Support the delivery and ongoing assessment of heritage skills training.
5. Support the development and delivery of heritage and climate action planning within communities.
6. Ensure activities adhere to funders' outcomes and support monitoring and evaluation processes.
7. Undertake and adhere to risk assessments and Safe Systems of Work for all activities.
8. Keep records of attendance at events and carry out feedback questionnaires where appropriate.
9. Resolve day-to-day problems associated with the delivery of project activities.
10. Adhere to KSB's financial recording processes and project budget.
11. Contribute to communication plans and campaigns to effectively promote and publicise the heritage activities, as required.
12. Become familiar with, develop and adhere to all internal policies and procedures.
13. Ensure compliance with the company's Health and Safety policy.
14. Observe the company's Equal Opportunities Policy.
15. Undertake such work as may be determined from time to time up to or on a level commensurate with the main responsibilities of the post.

Please note: This is not to be viewed as an exhaustive list of duties, rather, the key elements of the expected workload.
